Judging Process

How to Enter

Open for entries: 10th September 2021

Entry deadline: Friday 19th November 2021

Production Awards

1. Judges will consider all elements of the entries, based on the following criteria:
 - Quality
 - Creativity
 - Originality and innovation
 - Entertainment value
 - Use of resources
 - Professionalism
2. Entries may come from any media platform and must have been either aired on TV, distributed for non-broadcast or streamed online for the first time between November 2019 and December 2021.
3. Entries must have a substantial link with the region. This can be either more than a third of the budget spent in the region, originated and shot in the region and/or post-produced in the region.
4. More than one production or episode from a series can be entered into the same category.
5. All rights must have been cleared for the copying and showing in public of extracts during the Awards presentation and for screening on the internet.
6. All entrants must provide a full programme for judging purposes and a 30-second clip (a stand-out moment) which should be uploaded along with their entry. Entries will not be considered complete unless the clip is included.

Production awards include the following six categories.

Category 1: Non-Broadcast Factual

This award will recognise a production or promotion not made for broadcast. Entries are generally aimed at a specific target audience.

Where there is a commissioning editor, a testimony from them should be included outlining how effective the production was in meeting the commissioner's objectives. Please include a headline production budget for the project.

Category 2: Broadcast Factual

This category includes daytime, documentaries and specialist factual productions.

Entries may be a one-off programme or one episode from a factual or entertainment series.

Category 3: Comedy and Entertainment

This category includes productions made for broadcast and non-broadcast across all platforms.

Entries may be a one-off programme or one episode from a series.

Category 4: Drama

This award is for broadcast and non-broadcast fiction or other narrative drama, including docu-drama and online. The full production must be submitted. The judges reserve the right to make two awards depending on the number of entries and budget considerations.

Category 5: Commercial

This award recognises exceptional standards of work in the production of commercial content from any media platform. Please include a client testimony and brief budget details.

Category 6: News Programme

This award is to recognise the highest standard of news output in the region. Rewarding exceptional journalism, production, technical delivery and depth and quality of coverage.

Two submissions are required. The first can be any programme transmitted during the month of March 2021. The second is a 30-minute highlights reel showcasing the ten best news moments of the year (any clips between November 2019 and December 2021)

Category 7: Current Affairs

This award is to recognise the highest standard of current affairs output in the region. The category is open to investigative and political analysis. Entries can be submitted from current affairs series, stand-alone programmes and from specialist strands within daily news magazine output.

Category 8: Children's

The key audience for this category is children. Entries can include productions made for broadcast and non-broadcast across all platforms. Entries may be a one-off programme or an episode from a children's series.

Individual Awards

1. All work must have been aired on TV, distributed for non-broadcast or streamed online for the first time between November 2019 and December 2021.
2. All entrants must provide a 30 second clip (a stand-out moment) which should be uploaded along with their entry. Entries will not be considered complete unless the clip is included.

Portfolio Awards include the following four categories:

Category 9: Outstanding Journalism

This category is open to all television and online journalists working in news and features. Entrants should submit a portfolio of three pieces of work no longer than 15 minutes which show a range of skills, together with background notes between 500 and 750 words.

Judges will assess a range of skills including on the day reporting as well as examples of original and creative journalism combined with strong storytelling and compelling use of pictures.

Category 10: Sport Award

This category is open to broadcast and non-broadcast. This award recognises the importance of sport to the region and will be given for excellence in sports reporting, sports presentation and sports production.

Entrants should submit a portfolio of three pieces of work no longer than 15 minutes in total which show a range of skills, together with background notes between 500 and 750 words.

Category 11: Presenter of the Year

This category is open to all on-screen presenters in broadcast and non-broadcast production who are based in the North East and the Border region – or feature prominently in content produced in the region. Entrants should submit a portfolio of three items no longer than 15 minutes which show a range of work, together with background notes between 500 and 750 words.

Judges will be looking for exceptional professionalism, strong audience engagement and an understanding of their subject.

Category 12: Drama Performance

This award is to recognise the best on-screen performance this year by an actor in broadcast or non-broadcast Drama production. The performer might be working in television drama or a digital docu-drama. Entrants should be based in the region or feature in content produced in the region.

Judges will be looking for an inspired performance and one that has brought depth to the character and the situation portrayed.

Please include the full programme and highlight in the written entry why this performer has been nominated.

Category 13: Rising Star

This award is for a newcomer with less than three years industry experience either in front or behind the camera. They will originate from the region or have a long-term base and live and work in the region. The individual will have demonstrated exceptionally high standards of work and show potential to go right to the top in the industry.

The judges will recognise their skills and talents are emerging. They will want to see evidence of extensive contributions to a team effort, demonstrate newly learned skills, creativity, innovation, professionalism and bags of potential.

The nominee, for example, might be a writer who has had their first network commission aired – they might be in their first film editor job – they might be in the early stages of a news production career or they might be showing real talent behind the scenes in a TV drama.

This is a broad category and individuals must be nominated by a senior manager who will submit a written nomination between 500 and 1000 words demonstrating why the nominee is already considered to be a “rising star” and why they are likely to make a big impact on the industry in the future. The entry should also include endorsements/letters from clients/managers which highlight how the individual has demonstrated excellence in their role. Video content will not be accepted in this category.

Professional Excellence Awards

1. All work must have been aired on TV, distributed for non-broadcast or streamed online for the first time between November 2019 and December 2021.
2. Individuals or teams may enter these categories with the exception of Editing.
3. Entrants must have their home base in the region if they work elsewhere. At least one member of a team should be based in the North East and Borders.
4. These awards include a broad range of disciplines and the winner will be able to clearly demonstrate to the judges that their work is excellent.
5. The judging panel will consider:
 - Quality
 - Originality
 - Creativity
 - Technical excellence
6. All entrants must provide along with their entry, a 30-second clip (a stand-out moment) which should be uploaded along with their entry. Entries will not be considered complete unless the clip is included.

Professional Excellence Awards include the following categories:

Category 14: Photography

This award celebrates the skill and professional excellence of an individual or team in all elements of camera work, including sound capture where relevant, in single camera operations. Portfolios can include both broadcast and non-broadcast work.

Three examples of work should be submitted demonstrating exceptional camerawork. The portfolio should be no longer than 15 minutes and be supported by written narrative.

Category 15: Sound

This category recognises professional excellence in sound across all output including post production. This award could identify the work of one individual or the work of the whole sound team. Entrants should include three samples of work which demonstrate excellence in sound. The portfolio should be no longer than 15 minutes and be supported by written narrative.

Category 16: Animation, Graphics and Titling

This award recognises professional excellence in all aspects of animation, graphics and titling.

Entrants should submit a maximum of three clips or sequences demonstrating professional excellence in this area up to 15 minutes. The portfolio should be supported by written narrative.

Category 17: Editing

This category recognises professional excellence in post-production.

Entrants should submit three samples of work no longer than 15 minutes which demonstrate professional excellence in this area. The portfolio should be supported by written narrative.

Category 18: Pandemic Production Innovation - Drama

This award recognises productions forced to invent new ways of producing fiction to reach audiences during the pandemic. This category celebrates productions that created innovative ways of filming and telling stories for broadcast and non-broadcast platforms during lockdown restrictions. Judges are looking for high quality content produced against the odds. Innovations might include script writing, filming, special effects and production management. It is open to long form and short form productions created in line with social distancing, travel and other restrictions. Entrants must describe the workarounds and new ways of working they had to deploy to stay within lockdown rules.

Category 19: Pandemic Production Innovation – News and Factual

This award marks the achievements of news, current affairs and factual productions forced to invent new ways of working to reach audiences during the pandemic. The category recognises live and pre-recorded programmes made for broadcast, streaming and non-broadcast platforms. Judges are looking for high quality content produced against the odds. Innovations might include broadcasting from home, use of new technologies and user-generated content. It is open to long and short form productions created in line with social distancing, travel and other restrictions. Entrants must describe the workarounds and new ways of working they had to deploy to stay within lockdown rules.

Category 20: Short Form Content

This category is designed to recognise excellence in the production of short form content and the specialist skills required in short story telling. Judges will consider productions up to 20 minutes duration. Entries from any media platform used for distribution will be considered. Cast members could be put forward for Drama Performance and crew members can enter the Professional Excellence categories.

The Centre Award

This award is open to individuals, teams and organisations whose work, either in front of the camera or behind the scenes, has made an outstanding contribution to any aspect of our industry - broadcasting, production or technical sectors in the North East and Border region – and on a wider stage - with a particular focus on the past 24 months.

Entrants should submit a statement of no less than 1000 words, plus at least three letters of support for the nomination outlining why they deserve this industry award. Without this the entry will not be eligible and therefore will not be considered.

Nominations for the Centre Award and any special achievement awards should be sent in confidence to netbchairofjudges@rts.org.uk

and RTSNorthEastBordersViceChair@rts.org.uk

Judging Process

Each entry will be judged by a panel of five industry experts who are responsible for specific categories. Each will consider the entries along with entry notes and testimonials where required. Each judging panel will have a chair who has the casting vote in the event of a tie in any category.

The entries will be judged on the basis of what entrants submit and not on the judges' knowledge of the entrant's other work.

If there are too few entries in a particular category, the judges reserve the right not to offer an award or if appropriate switch entries to another category.

Judges will be looking for a strong written submission so please take care completing the entry form and make sure you comply with the entry requirements for each category. Be careful to follow guidance on length of submitted video material.

One award will be given per category; however, the Chair of Judges reserve the right to award more than one award if after discussion this is deemed appropriate.

We would encourage you to consider categories 18 and 19 if Covid-19 restrictions played a large part in your production management and delivery.
